

Tsunamis are often no taller than normal wind waves, but they are much more dangerous.

Wind waves come and go without flooding higher areas.

Tsunamis run quickly over the land as a wall of water.

Even a tsunami that looks small can be dangerous!

Any time you feel a large earthquake, or see a disturbance in the ocean that might be a tsunami, head to high ground or inland.